Evers May Be President.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—So well pleased is Charles W. Murphy, president of the Chicago National League baseball team, with his new manager, John J. Evers, that today he said it was possible that Evers would become the chief executive of the club.

"Evers may become president of this club," Murphy said. "I am planning a trip around the world, and if I go I will make Evers head of the club as well as manager. He is fitted for the position, for he has the brains to grasp anything."

Should Evers make good as president, Murphy said, he might not resume the presidency after his globe-circling trip, but become chairman of the board of control.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

FEW PRICE CHANGES.

Brief Selling Movement Scales Quotations, But Not Seriously.

New York, Nov. 15.—Operations in stocks were curtailed today, and during most of the trading prices of the leading issues changed but little. A brisk selling movement imparted some life to the market in the last hour and quotations were scaled down, although losses were not severe. The movement as a whole was inconsequential and speculative interest seemed to be at low ebb.

In the early dealings specialties were more than ordinarily prominent, with substantial gains in some of the tobacco issues, fertilizers, equipments and American Beet Sugar. Preferred shares of the latter company were under pressure and later there was some selling at concessions of international paper issues, Union Bag and Paper common and preferred and several of the minor railways. The decline in Bag and Paper issues was most precipitate, the common falling 3 points and the preferred 72.

Call money ranged between 5 1/2 and 6 per cent, with moderate demands. No change was shown in time rates, but the undertone was strong, and further offerings of commercial paper at rates recently prevailing were announced. Interior banks were again moderate purchasers of business paper. Forecasts point to a cash loss of $2,000,000 to $4,000,000 of the weekly movement. The loan account is again an unknown quantity, but the week's dullness in the stock market indicates a contraction in that item.

Prices of Americans in London were generally higher, with especial activity in coppers and Canadian Pacific. The local market at no time made more than slight response to the higher general average of our stocks abroad. The bond market was sluggish. Total sales, per value, $1,550,000.

United States bonds unchanged on call.

YALE AND PRINCETON MEET TODAY

Tiger and Bull Dog Ready for the Fray—Odds Slightly Favor Blue—Harvard and Dartmouth Clash at the Stadium—Yale and Harvard Freshmen Meet.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 15.—The Yale football squad left New Haven tonight for New York, where they will remain over night, going to Princeton tomorrow morning for the annual game with the Tigers. More than a thousand students marched to the depot and gave the team a rousing send-off.

Practice of the highest kind was held this afternoon on Yale field. Every one of the men in the Princeton team was in the line of scrimmage. Practice of the highest kind was held this afternoon on Yale field. Every one of the men in the Princeton team was in the line of scrimmage.

Dartmouth vs. Harvard. Boston, Nov. 15.—The Dartmouth and Harvard football squads met on either side of the Charles river tonight, the Green in Auburndale and the Crimson in Cambridge, awaiting their annual contest in the Stadium tomorrow.

The Harvard players had spent the afternoon in light practice behind closed gates; the Dartmouth squad passed it in traveling to Auburndale from Haverhill, N. H., which was practically empty of spectators. Tonight, 1,500 inhabitants of Haverhill, most of them undergraduates, made merry in Boston in a "night before" demonstration.

Generally both teams are in good physical shape and will present their strongest men, except in one instance. This is in the Dartmouth backfield, where Moore, who has played a powerful game all season, will be missing. His knee still troubles him today, and it was considered doubtful by the coaches whether he would be able to get into the game even for a short time. Otherwise every man on the Dartmouth squad was reported fit.

Cornell vs. Michigan. Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 15.—While the Cornell football squad was putting in a portion of the afternoon in final practice on the grounds of the Country club at Detroit, Coach York kept the Michigan players busy with signals.

The Wolverine coach would not state tonight whether the same eleven will face Cornell on Perry field tomorrow that started against Pennsylvania last Saturday. It is generally expected, however, that the backfield will not be changed. It also seems quite probable that Pentecost and Tordella will be the ends.

Michigan, like Cornell, regards a victory tomorrow as a satisfactory ending of an unsuccessful season. The two eleven have met nine times, and the only Michigan victory was won in 1904.

Reports from Detroit today bore the information that Trainer Mackley pronounced the Cornell regulars in good shape for their crucial game. The visitors will remain at Detroit tonight, coming here tomorrow morning.

Middleton, Conn., Nov. 15.—Trinity and Wesleyan battle on the gridiron here tomorrow afternoon, with all the indications pointing to a close and fiercely fought game between the old time rivals. Trinity has beaten Wesleyan for the past few years, but this year Wesleyan has a strong team, hopes to even up scores.

Yale and Harvard Freshmen Meet. New Haven, Conn., Nov. 15.—The Yale and Harvard freshmen met in the annual gridiron contest on Yale field tomorrow. Comparative scores show both teams to be about of equal strength, and a close game is expected.

How the Wing Shift Came into Existence. Dr. Harry Williams Invented Famous Play to Help Minnesota.

No play in the present football game is more often used by players and is less understood by spectators than the "wing shift." The play was originally brought about by Tom Shevlin, the former Yale captain, who taught it to the Ell team in 1910. Since then many wing shifts have been developed, all based upon the one originally used by Minnesota.

Today the play is so well known that the larger colleges all have a good defense for the once mighty Ell. However, it still is used and it is interesting to note its origin as told by John R. Richards, the western football authority.

The regular formation, as it is called, of an aggressive line shows three men on each side of center. The line requires seven men on the line at the moment the ball is put in play," says Mr. Richards. "If these men take their places slowly, the defensive line will be ready to cover all that comes into town."

Many plays have been devised in the past to get more than three on one side of
